3 PER CENT IN A MONTH

Butter Shows Greatest Increase This Fall, Leading the List With Six Per Cent—Meats Show Decline in Same Period But Most Everything Else Advances in Price

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 29.—Retail prices of foods in the United States as a whole advanced three per cent from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, making a 6 per cent increase for 12 months, as shown in reports compiled today by the bureau of labor statistics. The figures came from 725 retail dealers in 45 principal industrial cities. In the thirty days covered in the reports meats declined in price from one to six per cent but all other articles given, except tea, coffee and rice, advanced from one per cent, for hens to six per cent, for butter, bread and sugar, and eleven per cent for eggs. Relative price changes of a number of articles during the month, putting the average 1915 prices at 100 per cent, are given as follows:

Decrease—Sirloin steak 3 per cent; round steak 4 per cent; rib roast 3 per cent; chuck roast 2 per cent; plate boiling beef 1 per cent; pork chops 6 per cent; ham no change.

Price increases—Smoked bacon 1 per cent; lard 5 per cent; eggs 11 per cent; butter 6 per cent; cheese 5 per cent; milk 3 per cent; bread 6 per cent; flour 11 per cent; corn meal 4 per cent; potatoes 4 per cent; onions 4 per cent; beans 2 per cent; prunes 1 per cent; sugar 6 per cent.

Tables giving price increases for twelve months show potatoes lead all foods with an increase of 75 per cent. There were no price reductions, but coffee, tea and rice remained stationary. Some of the year's price changes are given as follows:

Sirloin 5 per cent; round steak 7 per cent; rib roast 5 per cent; chuck roast 6 per cent; plate boiling beef 6 per cent; pork chops 4 per cent; smoked bacon 9 per cent; smoked ham 16 per cent; lard 34 per cent; hens 18 per cent; eggs 16 per cent; butter 19 per cent; bread 19 per cent; milk 6 per cent; meat 16 per cent; flour 33 per cent; meal 9 per cent; potatoes 75 per cent; onions 42 per cent; beans 55 per cent; prunes 1 per cent; sugar 31 per cent.

RECOUNT

Of Ohio Votes for Governor May Be Demanded by Republican Committee

INVESTIGATION STARTED

Claim is Made That Precinct Officials Improperly Counted Straight Democratic Tickets—G. O. P. Will Maintain Permanent State Headquarters—Deficit of $75,000

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Nov. 29.—The Republican committee of nine composed of Governor Willis, United States Senator Harding, Myron T. Herrick and other party leaders delegated by the Republican state central and executive committees yesterday to direct the establishment of permanent headquarters and place men in charge, will hold a meeting in Columbus within the next week. After establishing headquarters the first thing it will do will be to take steps to clean up the $75,000 deficit left by the recent campaign.

Charles S. Hatfield, Republican state campaign manager will remain in charge of Republican headquarters temporarily. The investigation of the vote cast with a view to demanding a recount before the legislature, Hatfield announced was proceeding quietly today. The investigation is not an official one but confined to the Republican organization. No charges of fraud are made. Chairman Hatfield announced. Attorney General Turner said he was giving the matter no attention.

The formal canvass of the vote on presidential electors, which will determine officially the vote cast for President in Ohio was started in the Secretary of State's office today when Governor Willis, Secretary of State Hildebrandt, state Auditor Donahy and Attorney General Turner, comprising the canvassing board directed the opening of the sealed returns. It will take several days for clerks in the secretary of state's office to tabulate the returns.

Statement was made that inquiry had been going on for some time into the matter of improper counting of so-called straight Democratic tickets in order to obtain substantial evidence upon which to base a demand for a recount of 1,240,000 ballots cast at the recent election.

The semi-official plurality of the winner over Governor Frank B. Willis is 6,616 and radical friends of the defeated candidate, both angered and dismayed at the result of the balloting, are confident that sufficient errors will be discovered to overturn it.

Acting under instructions from this city, state employees in all departments have been interviewing Republican precinct election officials as to the number of insufficiently marked ballots which were counted in the Democratic column.

KAISER WILL NOT ATTEND FUNERAL OF FRANCIS JOSEPH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 29.—A Berlin official telegram says that the German emperor arrived in Vienna in the forenoon yesterday but left the city in the evening. Ordering to a slight cold the emperor's physicians prevailed upon him to abandon his intention of attending the funeral of Emperor Francis Joseph, the telegram says.

"The German emperor refused to renounce his duty of bidding farewell to the allied German forces, to the deceased ruler. The emperor stayed quietly in prayer at the bier of Francis Joseph on which he laid a wreath. The emperor especially requested that no official reception be accorded him. The day was thus devoted quietly to the memory of the deceased and to talk with the young imperial couple, with whom the emperor expressed an urgent desire to have a long visit in these earnest days."

PRICES

ON EGGS IN LARGE CITIES DROP AS BOYCOTT BY HOUSE-WIVES EXTENDED

Every Item in Thanksgiving Dinner Costs More This Year Than for Several Years Past.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Nov. 29.—The price of cold storage eggs at wholesale was one and two cents lower today than yesterday morning when the egg boycott began. Eggs sold at 34 to 38 cents a dozen, according to grade. The average price for fresh eggs was 63 cents as compared with 57 at this time a year ago. The price of fresh eggs showed no change from yesterday.

Referring to the boycott the producers' price current says: "The demand (for eggs) is naturally restricted by the high prices ruling and by an abnormal effect of boycott and newspaper agitation but the requirements of fine fresh stock are sufficient to absorb the small supply of such available at firm prices."

Some of the wholesale dealers asserted that the boycott would play into the hands of foreign buyers. They said that men who want eggs for export are waiting for a reduction in prices. An official daily report issued for the benefit of producers and dealers says: "Storage eggs are lower under a reduction of speculative support and a disposition on the part of the distributing trade to hold off and use the stock on hand."

The Housewives' League today continued active missionary work to discourage the use of eggs. One method is an endless chain of telephone appeals. One woman called up 25 of her friends, asked them to abstain from eggs for two weeks and then asked each of these 25 to call 25 of her women friends and deliver the same message.

A canvass of the big public markets showed that almost every item of the Thanksgiving dinner will cost more this year than it did a year ago. Some of the increases are:

Turkeys, lb.	28 to 40c
Ducks, lb.	28 to 30c
Roasting chickens, 24 to 30c	26c
Geese	28 to 30c
Butter	46 to 52c
Cranberries, lb.	15 to 20c
Celery, a bunch	20 to 30c
Onions, white, ct.	15c
Pumpkins	20 to 50c

The above are retail prices.

EGGS UNDER SUSPICION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Nov. 29.—City, state and federal officials, together with numbers of city women's and other organizations, are working today in an attempt to find a solution for the high price of foodstuffs.

With the campaign continuing on eggs, it was announced that municipal inspectors had discovered in storage about 500,000 eggs of questionable quality which were tagged and marked for examination by the city chemist while more than 2,000,000 eggs were found in six cold storage houses awaiting an inspection in price. In addition, government inspectors found 35,000,000 eggs stored in another warehouse, the owner of which has not been located.

Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney also began an investigation into the report that Jas. E. Weitz is the holder of 72,000,000 eggs in Chicago and to learn if Mr. Weitz is not the actual owner, who is backing him in the alleged attempted corner.

TURKEYS DROP AGAIN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—With the public refusing to buy turkeys at high prices the market here has suffered another sharp slump and prices today were as low as 18 cents a pound for the live fowl and a large supply on hand.

Shoppers who had sent many carloads and boat loads here expecting to sell their fowls for 35 cents a pound live weight, found few buyers and they had to slash their quotations or find no takers. Some shipped their turkeys back to Ohio and West Virginia rather than sell their birds at the low prices insisted on by the public. Others accepted what they could get.

It is expected quotations will go still lower today. Retail dealers are still holding out for 35 cents a pound dressed weight, but some were forced to sell as low as 22 cents a pound yesterday.

Eighteen coast defense submarines went to the Electric Boat Company at $497,000 each; six to the Lake Torpedo Boat Company at $494,000 and three to California Shipbuilding Company on Lake designs at $498,000.

One fleet submarine went to the Electric Boat Company at $1,189,000 and the other to the Lake Company at $1,195,000.

Some minor modifications remain to be fixed but the navy department has insisted upon certain features of construction.

PERIL

Of Rumanian Capital Continues With Progress of Teutonic Forces

OFFICIALS FLEE TO JASSY

General Von Falkenhayn's Rapid Move Made Possible By Von Mackensen's Operations Along the Danube River—Defending Armies in Vital Danger of Being Enveloped

Events on the European battle fronts are summarized from reports from the various capitals in the following Associated Press dispatch: The situation of Rumanian armies defending Bucharest appears increasingly critical. Only to the northwest of the capital do the Rumanian lines seem to be holding at all firmly and even here the capture of Caracea de Arges, on the Argechu river, although that point is 80 miles distant from Bucharest, seems to indicate a weakening of the Rumanian resistance in this direction. On the southwest the peril is imminent with the enveloping movement of the central powers placing their forces within 40 miles of the capital. News dispatches have reported the Rumanian government and diplomatic officials leaving Bucharest for Jassy, 200 miles northeast of the capital near the Russian frontier.

The rapid progress made by General von Falkenhayn's armies moving east in Rumania of course has been largely made possible by the operation of the Danube forces under Field Marshal von Mackensen. Flanked out of the Alt valley position by the crossing of the river at Zimnitza, the Rumanian line along the Vedeia running diagonally northwest from the Danube, likewise is imperilled by the Teutonic occupation of Giurgiu, an advance from which would quickly compel a Rumanian retreat. It still remains to be developed whether the process of flanking the Rumanians out of their positions is to be continued by other crossing of the Danube still further east. The southern bank of the river is held by the troops of the central powers to a point beyond Tchernavoda.

That the retreat of the Rumanians toward the nearer defenses of Bucharest is already under way and is a precipitate one, is indicated by today's German official statement which announces a disorderly retirement of the Rumanian forces along the entire Wallachian front before Gen. von Falkenhayn's steady advance. Von Mackensen's Danube armies are marching forward in a corresponding advance.

Possibly as a diversion in aid of the Rumanians the Russians have taken the offensive near Kirilibaba, on the Golden Bistritza, in the Carpathians northwest of the Rumanian frontier. Attacks here, Petrograd reports, netted them the ridges of heights east and south of Kirilibaba and the capture of more than 700 prisoners. Berlin declares the Russian attacks, delivered at many points along the Carpathian and western Moldavian front, resulted only in local successes which were paid for dearly.

With the exception of the Rumanian front none is more effective at present than the Macedonian. Whatever may have been the result of the recent heavy fighting there, regarding which German and entente accounts disagree, the allied armies do not appear to have slackened the force of their offensive in the Monastir region.

Paris today announces an important advance by the Serbians in which two heights were captured, notably one northwest of Grunishite, east of the Cerna river where an effort is evidently being made to bring the line up to a level with that which in the bend of the stream, towards Monastir. Meanwhile an advance by the Italians is reported in the region west of Monastir where a violent battle is raging in which progress also has been made by the French.

VICTOR

Holds What He Gets, Says German Paper, Discussing Terms of Peace

PROVINCES IN FRANCE

Are More Valuable Than Colonies Lost to Enemy and Possession of Antwerp Will Be Retained—Destruction of London is More Desirable Than the Capture of Moscow

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Nov. 29.—The Reinish and Westphalen Gazette in an article on the principle of German peace, declares that the reconciliation of Germany and her western enemies is impossible, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to Reuters. The paper declares that it believes Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg recognizes this and adds: "Our ultimate aim is to push through to the west and the ocean. Whatever offers resistance must be crushed."

Referring to the Balkans the Gazette says: "What the victor gets he holds." In respect to the lost German colonies, the Gazette is quoted as saying: "If we do not succeed in reconquering them the French provinces are worth twice our colonies and we will take our compensation out in France. Let us daily tell the French that every foot we conquer is ours. We need not waste words about Belgium. We need access to the channel and we need antwerp. Whoever yields Belgium may fetch it from us."

The Gazette concludes that England is more assailable than Russia and that London can be destroyed easier than Moscow because, it says, Moscow costs blood and London only torpedoes.

"We have no fantastic dreams," are the Gazette's final words, "of conquering the world. German Burgerdom is not yet ripe for mastering and governing a world empire. We neither can or will destroy the British empire, but the minimum necessary for German peace is the complete beating down of France in the west and the prestige of the German flag in all the seas."

An Amsterdam despatch to the Times refers to the Gazette's article as by far the most radical that has yet appeared in regard to the German peace terms. The dispatch adds that the Gazette represents great industrial magnates who "as recent executive changes show, are making their influence increasingly felt."

Annexation is also advocated by Herr Jaeger, a member of the central party in the Reichstag, who, writing in the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger, insists that the German blood shed in Belgium since 1914 must not have been shed in vain. "Belgium must be our guarantee," writes Dr. Jaeger, "for a good part of the war career. We must retain permanently the Meuse line, with Liege and Namur. Part of old Luxembourg which has become Belgian can perhaps be ceded to the grand duchy."

After saying that the Walloons could be ejected from their homes, Dr. Jaeger pronounced in favor of allowing the Belgian dynasty to remain. He declared, however, that the country must be brought politically, militarily and economically in closer relation to Germany.

FARMER SHOT IN STREET DUEL IS DEAD OF WOUNDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Nov. 29.—John Finley, 24, a farmer who was injured in a gun fight at London, O., yesterday died at a local hospital this morning as the result of his wounds. Finley was shot in the head.

A negro, believed to be McKinley Herd, of Columbus is being sought by the police today for the shooting. He got into trouble at London, yesterday and is said to have attempted to fight with three Italians. He was arrested and the police officer was on the way to the jail with him when he jerked away from his captor and started firing at him. One bullet grazed the officer's right shoulder and the second entered his hand. Finley at this time stepped out of a store and the third bullet took effect in his head. He was rushed to this city where he died today. In returning the negro's fire in an attempt to re-capture him, a bullet from the officer's gun struck the cement sidewalk and glanced, striking Pauline Footy, 13, in the right leg and breaking the bone. While it is believed that one of the shots fired at the negro took effect he made his escape and is still at large today.

TURKEYS SOLD FOR 30 CENTS ON LOCAL MARKETS

There were plenty of fowls of all kinds on the market today, and both the Peoples and Farmers markets will keep open this evening. Turkeys dressed and ready for the oven were retailing at 35 cents per pound. There were but few buyers at that figure and unless the price drops before night many will possibly be placed in cold storage. Picked turkeys brought 30 cents and live ones 25.

Dressed geese sold at from $1.50 to $2.50; ducks, 60 cents to $1, and guinea at 75. Rabbits brought 20 and 35, although some of the meat markets were retailing them at 25. There was a great demand for live ducks and chickens and scores of them were carried home for the Thanksgiving dinner.

A well known provision and meat dealer in the West End is retailing turkeys dressed at 26 cents. He states that he has plenty of them and early this morning received two telephone calls requesting him to keep up the prices on turkeys, but that as soon as he was requested to assist in maintaining the high prices he immediately dropped his price two cents more, making dressed turkeys 26 cents. He retails live ones at 25.

VICTROLA BIG FACTOR IN CULTIVATING TASTE FOR BETTER MUSIC

Probably one of the greatest factors in the development of a taste for the better things, in music, has been the perfected talking machine, for this instrument has brought to within the reach of nearly every home the opportunity to hear the greatest musicians of the world. Last year during the Christmas season over one hundred Victrolas were sold by the John J. Carroll store who with Mr. C. E. Wyeth hold the sole agencies for the machine in the city.

Preparations are being made this year to care for even a larger sale, but even then some are sure to be disappointed for the demand for the Victrola has been so great this year that the distributors find it difficult to keep the dealers supplied, with the result that when the Christmas rush comes on and the demand for these instruments for gifts is made, it will be hard to obtain them.

The Victrola has proven a great factor for education in the home, for only the children alone are taught to care for the highest class of music, but their elders also soon cultivate a taste for the best compositions.

The record supply, which includes the reproductions of all the great singers and players of the day, is unlimited in Newark at the present time and the latest numbers by the artists can be secured as soon as they are released. In reviving "My Paternal Hand" from "Macbeth," Caruso has risen to topmost heights of his infinite vocal resources. John McCormick's December records include "To My Beloved" from "Don Giovanni" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile." Alma Gluck sings "The Mother's Prayer" and Geraldine Ferrar is heard in "All Through the Night."

These are but a few of the marvelous reproductions by talented singers, and to have these is made possible by Victrolas.

The machines include all grades of instruments from the $25 machine to the highest priced electrically equipped Victrola with the handsomest cabinets.

RUMANIANS ARE NOT TOO ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PRESENT WAR.

[Associated Press Correspondence] Toerzburg, Transylvania, Oct. 16.—Prisoners of war being not unwilling to please their captors, their statements must be taken with a large pinch of salt. Though there be no officers of the enemy present, the prisoner of war cannot be sure that his statements do not become known to the powers into whose hands the fortune of war has placed him.

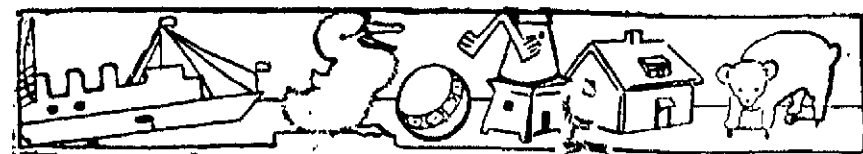

The Associated Press correspondent was able to interview here today two score Rumanian officers and men who had fallen into captivity near Rucar, some twenty miles south of here. No Central Power officer was within earshot.

One of the first men questioned was a Rumanian Jew, a man of some education and standing. He had served as a private. Unblushingly he said that he had looked for a chance to surrender. Questioned why, the man almost flew into a rage. He could not see why a Jew should fight for a government which in times of peace gave him no vote and no part in the affairs of his country. He hoped that the Central troops would get to Bucharest in a few days and hang them all, especially Bratiannu and Take Jonescu who had so needlessly involved the country in war. Six other Jews were a little timid in their expressions but seemed to heartily agree with their spokesman.

Captured officers are non-inter-viewable, as a rule. The code, as well as tact, forbids that they be questioned, but one of them, a tall handsome fellow of about twenty-five, gave it as his opinion that the war was "une sale affaire"—a dirty business.

'PHONE GIRLS IN JAIL AS RESULT OF STRIKE RIOT

[Associated Press Telegram] Toledo, Nov. 29.—More than 1000 wires were cut and as many telephones put out of service last night, was the report received this morning by the police from the Ohio State Telephone company, some of whose linemen and girl operators are striking.

Two long distance cables were also cut last night. Five arrests in connection with street fights were made last night. Two of those arrested were girls.

The company had its non-union operators quartered in a leading hotel and conveys them to the exchanges in automobiles heavily screened and barred. Early today as one of the "armored" autos drew up in front of the hotel, union and non-union girls battled, punching, scratching and pulling hair.

One of the company's automobiles was badly damaged by fire last night. It is supposed that the fire was of incendiary origin and the police are investigating.

Mayor Milroy has given authority for a "tag day" collection Saturday for the strikers' benefit.

JAPS ADMIRE FRENCH HEROISM AT VERDUN; EMPEROR SENDS SWORD

Tokio, Nov. 29.—The heroism of Verdun will be commemorated by the emperor of Japan, who will send to the French city a Japanese sword newly wrought by the leading swordsmith of the nation.

The sword is of the kind known as "Efu-no-tachi" used by the warriors of ancient Japan solely on the battlefield and is accordingly thought an ideal gift for honoring the martial spirit and bravery of Verdun.

The swordsmith is Yagoro Gassan of Osaka, believed the best of the contemporary experts of the art in Japan. It was he who fashioned the sword worn by the emperor on the occasion of the coronation or consecration ceremony in Kioto last year. The sword-guard and other accessories will be made of pure gold with raised work representing flowers, vines and other figures. On the upper part of the hilt the imperial crest of the chrysanthemum is gold inlaid to be on both sides. The sheath will be made of wood, its outer part being covered with mother-of-pearl and mounted with gold lacquer designs. The sheath

CAMPULUNG, A RUMANIAN RESORT

Aristocrats From Bucharest Spend Their Idle Moments There Before Enemy's Troops Invaded Its Streets.

Washington, Nov. 29.—"Campulung, also spelled Kimpulung, is one of the small cities on the southern slope of the Transylvanian Alps which has been figuring conspicuously in the war news from the Rumanian front since the Austro-Germans assumed the offensive in that zone of hostilities. Surrounded by beautiful mountains which are clothed with splendid forests, it was even as late as last summer, one of the most popular of the Rumanian resorts among the well-to-do classes of the national capital. In spite of the war cloud which lowered over the country," says a war geography bulletin issued from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"It was this picturesque spot that Rudolph the Black established the first capital of the principality known as Wallachia, in the thirteenth century. The town did not enjoy its court distinction long, however, for it was superseded by Curtea d'Arges, also founded by Rudolph, 29 miles to the southwest. And these places were succeeded in turn by Tirkovise and Bucharest.

"With a population not exceeding 13,000, Campulung's chief industrial interests are centered in its paper mills which are supplied with power by the turbulent Tergolui, a tributary of the river Arges. The town forms the apex of an inverted triangle, the other two points being the important Transylvanian cities of Hermannstadt and Kronstadt. It is some fifteen miles south of Torzburg or Torcsvar Pass, from which Kronstadt is 20 miles in an airline

NO DELIVERY MAIL TOMORROW; NEW LAW EFFECTIVE

On account of tomorrow being a holiday there will be no delivery of mail from the postoffice. There may be some criticism offered and Postmaster Frank Mercer wishes the public, patrons of his office to acquaint themselves with the facts in the case.

In June congress passed a measure making it compulsory for the postmaster to give all clerks and carriers compensatory time for time which they put in on any holiday. There were 18 carriers in the Newark office and they are only allowed to work eight hours per day. It takes six hours for each carrier to make a morning delivery.

There will be three legal holidays within thirty-one days, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years. In all that would amount to 324 extra hours which the local clerks would be entitled to and the law states that they must take compensatory time within 30 days. If on delivery was made from the local office each holiday and the clerks demanded the compensatory time to which the law states they are entitled the service would become demoralized and the work would accumulate in such a manner that it would almost be impossible to take care of it.

Under the above circumstances Postmaster Mercer states that it will be impossible to make a delivery Thanksgiving morning. The window delivery will remain open until 10 a. m.

REPORTS INDICATE CATTLE PLAGUE IS A FALSE ALARM

[Associated Press Telegram] Chicago, Nov. 29.—Fear of renewed outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in the central states was waning rapidly among livestock men here today. With encouraging reports from the suspected cattle in Kansas City, local packers, traders and officials of the Union Stock Yards expressed a belief that the quarantine against cattle, except for immediate slaughter from Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska at the yards in Chicago and East St. Louis would be removed today.

Action however, was awaiting the report of Dr. S. E. Bennett, head of the United States bureau of animal industry in Chicago, who returned from Kansas City with cultures taken there. He said that while the tests could not be completed until later in the day the indications were encouraging.

Arthur G. Leonard, president of the Union Stock Yards and transit company announced that the international live stock show will begin here Saturday as planned and that more than one-third of the exhibits have arrived in Chicago already and the remainder are on the way.

"Extraordinary care is being taken to protect the exhibits," said Bernard Heide, general manager. "We have no fears, realizing that the local quarantine is purely precautionary."

Arthur G. Leonard, president of the Union Stock Yards and Transit company, and of the international live stock exposition, today sent the following reassuring telegram to 400 exhibitors of prize cattle:

"Doctors Bennett and Mather think that the trouble at Kansas City is not foot and mouth disease, but a form of disease (stomatitis) that has affected horses in Nebraska and Colorado, and more or less in all markets. It lasts about 15 days and leaves no bad effects. We have decided to hold the exposition and are notifying all exhibitors for their information and guidance."

DISOBEDIENCE SAVED LIFE OF THIS LITTLE TOT

[Associated Press Telegram] Springfield, O., Nov. 29.—Disobeying the instructions of his mother, the three year old son of Mrs. R. C. Malone, crawled out of a go-cart she left standing in front of a drug store this morning. The child followed her into the store. A few minutes later an automobile crashed into the large plate glass window of the store smashing it and the corset.

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh, trouble that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parment (Double Strength) and add to it 1/4 pint hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils should open, air passages of your head clear up so you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, or hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. T. J. Evans—Adv.

DISAPPOINTED SMOKERS

look in vain for tobacco which will not make mouth and throat dry and hot. They will never find it if they are heavy smokers. All tobacco smoke contains acid gases which must dry and irritate the delicate membranes unless something is done to relieve them.

Soldiers in the trenches have solved the difficulty. They have to smoke constantly because of the stench and nervous strain. They find that by washing the mouth and gargling the throat with a glass of clear water into which from five to ten drops of hypochlorite solution have been put, their mouths and throats become refreshed and cool. The wash and gargle destroy the tobacco acids which are formed by the saliva and the smoke acids.

A Hyclorite gargle will not only refresh the membranes but will kill the germs which lodge in their folds and between the teeth. In this way infections, colds, pyorrhea, mouth acids and tooth decay will be prevented—for all these are caused by germs and acids which Hyclorite destroys.

Although many times more powerful than the harmful antiseptics which contain poisons, acids, mercury or dangerous preservatives, Hyclorite is even safer than the weak and ineffective peroxides. It is clean, clear and harmless as water—but powerful. Any druggist can supply Hyclorite in 25 and 50 cc. bottles. General Laboratories, Madison, Wisconsin.

OLD-TIME CURE CURE-DRINK TEA

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

TEST OF AIR MAN'S NERVE
COMES WHEN SHELLS BURST
NEAR HIS MACHINE.

An "Archie" is an Anti-Aircraft Gun and a "Hickey-boo" is a Zeppelin—Other Slang Expressions.

London, Nov. 29.—"It's all right so long as you can't see 'em, or hear 'em," said "Tommy" Brennan, of the Royal Flying Corps; "but any man who tells you he can fly over an 'Archie' and get a 'flaming onion' right ahead of him without ducking and wishing they wouldn't come so close or make so much noise, has never been up in an aeroplane. Take it from me."

"Yes," put in Gilray, "and every time you duck your old winger ducks with you. As 'Bren' over there says, it wouldn't be so bad if you couldn't see and hear 'em. Generally speaking you don't hear them unless one happens to break within thirty yards or so of you. It's when you get down close to them and look right down at them spitting fire at you, that's when you have got to have every nerve in your body tuned to the minute."

"I'll never forget the first time they got close to me," declared "Boy" Tylie. "My only thought was that I would never shoot a pheasant again. I knew exactly how a bird must feel when a hunter opens fire."

Brennan wore upon his left sleeve the gold stripe of the wounded. "Gil" had been on the official list of the killed in action some weeks ago, but some how or other came back to life. When Brennan was "hit" and finally came down safely with his own lines, it was found there were no less than 80 perforations in his wings.

"I was so interested in looking over their trenches I guess I got a little too low," he explained.

There is nothing more interesting in all London than to sit through a long autumn evening talking to the youngsters of the wonderful aviation service Great Britain has almost miraculously built up since the war began.

"We've got the Germans now where they have to fire blindly or shoot by the map," these intrepid men of the air will tell you. "Of what use are their wonderful guns if they don't know what they are shooting at? They don't dare send a plane over our lines. They don't even dare approach. The minute they show themselves we have an overwhelming number of machines to send after them and they beat it for home again as fast as they can go. They can't take a photograph of our new positions. The batteries have been driven from the heights and they can't observe. It is a big difference from the first days of the war."

Associating much with Britain's flying men one will soon learn that an "Archie," usually called "Archie" for short, is an anti-aircraft gun.

"Archie" barks at you," said Brennan. "He goes 'woof, woof, woof.' He isn't comfortable to listen to, either, but his when you get down a little nearer to earth and the machine guns get to working that you feel you have got to do what you set out to do right quickly and get started to some quicker spot just as fast as the air will get out of your way and let you through. You can't imagine how much that old atmosphere gets in your way when you are really in a hurry."

"When you get on speaking terms with a machine gun you know that it talks with a 'putt, putt, putt.' The ordinary hand rifle, which often takes a shot at you when you get too close to the trenches, goes 'crack, crack, crack,' just as everyone expects a rifle to go."

"A flaming onion? Well, that looks for all the world like an eight candle-power electric bulb coming at you. Then all of a sudden it breaks into nice little ribbons of fire that dart and float through the air like so many blazing serpents. They are very disagreeable, these onions. Their one desire in life is to set you ablaze and explode your petrol tank." One thing the American always has to remember over here is that gasoline, or just plain "gas" as the motorists and flying men call it at home, has no place in the English lexicon. It is "petrol," just as lieutenant, although spelled lieutenant, is pronounced "leitenant."

Several of the young "wing" subalterns were coming for the "Hickey-boos" to wait over the other night when they fell into a heated discussion as to whether you would rather have a shell break right ahead of you, right beneath you or right over you. There were those who contended it was best to have it break right in front, for then the explosion would spread the fragments and let you pass safely through the spot where "the blooming beast cracked."

The others contended that a shell breaking on the level with you indicated that "Archie" had his fuses timed just a bit too accurately for pleasure flying and that it was safer to take chances from the fragments coming from beneath or above. This was one discussion in which the innocent bystander had no part. He learned, however, that snarped from an "Archie" jumps at you with a "bang"; that it looks like a white puff-bail as it breaks in daylight and

BUCHAREST—"THE PARIS OF THE EAST"

Rumania's National Capital Has More Restaurants, Cafes and Theaters Than Our Own Seat of Government.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—To what extent the threatened invasion by the Teutonic allies have modified the safety of existence in the "Paris of the East," as Rumanians proudly call their capital city, it is hard to imagine but a striking picture of Bucharest before the war is given by John Oliver LaGorce, in a communication to the National Geographic Society, a part of which is issued as the following bulletin in the society's war geography service:

"The near-eastern metropolis of Bucharest is about equal in size to our own national capital, and yet it has twenty times as many restaurants and cafes, ten times as many street lights, and twice as many theatres. It is regarded as the most expensive place in the world for the well-to-do and the cheapest for the poor. Prices at the Hotel du Boulevard are higher than in New York or London, and travelers who have visited Monte Carlo's leading hotels and then journeyed to Bucharest have found its rates from 15 to 25 per cent higher than those obtaining in the hostelry of Monaco."

"But if their prices are high, their service and their food leave nothing to be desired. The cuisine of the leading hotels and private homes is French, and money is no consideration—quality is paramount. Some of the finest restaurants east of Paris are in Bucharest, and the night life, with its passionate, pulsating gypsy music, its sparkling wine, its beautiful women, its scintillating jewels, its handsome men, is as gay and as alluring as anything the world has to offer."

"As to clothes, everybody who pretends to dress at all dresses in the mode of Paris, and the gowns of the elite are as up-to-the-minute as those to be seen on the Champs Elysees."

Gambling flourishes openly, and high stakes are the rule rather than the exception. Many of the players own farms as big as an American county and their incomes are proportionately large.

"The source of the wealth of Bucharest is the big county estates like the starry shower of a rocket as it explodes by night.

When a "shrap" explodes beneath the tail of your machine you feel as if you were going to loop the loop in the wrong direction. When it breaks in front, you feel as if you very much wanted to do a "flipflop" backwards in the most improved style. When you get it under the wings the concussion almost capsize you, and you feel as if the old "jovstick," or guiding lever, never will put her back on an even keel.

The "Hickey-boo," it develops in the course of the conversation, are the Zeppelins. Where they got the name no one seems to know. It is the exclusive language of the flying corps. "Archie" is the name of the home defense aircraft guns as well as those of the Germans, for generally speaking all such guns are the natural enemy of the airmen, whether he be chasing a "Hickey-boo" over London or taking observations at the front. They are always threatening him with an unpleasant end.

Night flying is no easy task at best. You feel like the man in the song, said Sammy Sampson, a midge of the corps; "you are all dressed-up and no place to go."

It is simple enough to go up at night, and simple enough to sail away, but it is something else again to come down without taking off a chimney pot or "strafing" a big oak tree. In ordinary times there is a flare to guide you safely back to the aerodrome, but on "raid nights" when all is dark, and when the "Archies" are barking at the "Hickey-boos," and the "Hickey-boos" are "putt, putt, putt" at you with their machine guns—then night flying is surely enough a real man's job.

The Royal Flying Corps is proving most attractive to young Canadian officers. They are qualifying as pilots by the score. Some who came over from the Dominion in khaki are now in the deep blue of the Royal Naval Air Service, but the great majority who have taken to the air are still in khaki with the white insignia of widespread wings on the left breast of the tunic.

"I had my first real thrill the other day," said one of these young Canadians, just back from the front. "I was way inside the German lines, having the time of my bright young life, when suddenly I heard a misfire. No matter how many cylinders you have rot whirling in front of you the instant one misses your heart hears it even before your ears do. That old engine of mine jumped and bucked and finally stopped. And me miles across the line. I knew it was something wrong with the carburetor or the ignition for I had enough petrol to go a hundred miles or more. In the higher altitudes water often gets into the mixing chamber. So first of all I joggled that old carburetor for all she was worth. Then I gave the old boat a little tilt downward, she cranked herself as she dipped and old Johnny Engine was purring away in a moment just like a contented tabby cat in an old maid's lap. I had enough of Germany for that day and set sail for home in a line that would make a crow's flight look like a serpentine dance."

BIRD MAN STUDIES HABITS OF FEATHERED FRIENDS AS THEY PASS

Paris, Nov. 29.—A French army aviator, Captain G., when not directing the squadron he commands, gives his attention to the ways of certain birds in the air.

He has observed that swallows when migrating fly at an elevation of about 800 yards, while wild ducks at a similar period, fly as high as 2,000 yards. The green-necked species, he noted, fly at about 85 miles an hour when mounting and about 95 miles an hour when in horizontal flight. Lapwings were seen by the aviator at over a mile and a half high.

RED CROSS WORK IN BELGRADE TO STOP ABOUT DEC. 1

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Nov. 29.—Austro-Hungary has asked the American Red Cross to discontinue relief work in Belgrade and in other parts of northern Serbia conquered by the Teutonic forces, when supplies now on hand have been distributed. The suggestion reached here today through Ambassador Penfield at Vienna. The Austrian government expressed its deepest gratitude to the Red Cross for what has been done and gave no reason for asking its discontinuance.

Red Cross officials here, surprised at the request, say the work practically is at a standstill because of the impossibility of securing supplies since Rumania entered the war. The work will necessarily cease about Dec. 1.

Nearly $75,000 has been contributed to that section from this country, while 100 carloads of supplies from Rumanian relief committees and 80 from Swiss committees have been distributed by the American agents.

American relief in southern Serbia now is thrown into greater importance by Austria's request, and especially by the advance of the allied armies about Monastir. Reports from that city say 200,000 people are in distress, as the retreating armies of the central powers are said to have stripped the city bare of food and supplies. Shipments are being prepared for that section.

Wiping Out Deficit.

Interesting details of the task of
wiping out the national campaign
deficit were made public today by Treasurer Marsh of the Democratic National Committee.

Mr. Marsh talked very frankly
about the work in which he and his associates are now engaged. Believing it to be a subject in which the public is justly concerned, he permitted a glance through the responses to the Committee's appeal
for funds, which sheds a most interesting light upon the sources and
character of the contributions received up to the present time.

He pointed out that the Committee was particularly grateful for the
spontaneous and hearty response
from independent citizens who had received no party advantages, in a political sense, from the Democratic Party in the past and expected none
in the future. These contributors, he added, were prompted solely by an abiding sense of patriotism and
gave in a spirit of genuine gratitude.

"An impressive feature of the contributions up to date is that many
are from citizens who are under no
obligations to the party for any past
political favours," continued Mr.
Marsh.

They strikingly express the deep
feeling of gratitude over the re-
election of President Wilson entertained
by independent citizens throughout the country. They are in a sense
thank offerings by American voters
who feel both pride and honor in the opportunity of thus personally participating in Democracy's triumph.

These voluntary contributions from
citizens upon whom we had no claim
in a party sense are, of course, very pleasing to us.

"When in the closing days of the campaign, however, the party managers pledged the National Committee's credit in a determined effort
to make a final and resolute stand
against the devices of the organized
wealth which sought to turn the admittedly genuine drift away from President Wilson, we relied and had a right to rely upon the great body of Democrats in the nation to financially back us up.

"Actually, we now look to these Democrats, who, in a party sense,
share in the honors of the wonderful
victory, to make it clearly known by
their prompt and generous response
that future Democratic National Committees, if ever confronted by
the menace of coercive wealth and Republican unscrupulousness, as we were, may rely upon the party to support them to the limit in combating the powerful influences of the opposition.

"In other words, let the message
go forth that the great rank and file
of Democracy stands behind its party managers ready and eager to support to the utmost their party's
patriotic refusal to be either dismayed
or intimidated by the mere power
of organized wealth.

"We are grateful indeed to those

An example of the independent voters' interest in the election is
furnished by an anonymous letter
mailed in New York City, addressed
to Chairman McCormick to his Harrisburg address. It enclosed a small
envelope containing a contribution.
The only clue to the identity of the
sender was the following inscription
on the enclosed envelope: "To help
out that deficit—from an independent voter." Treasurer Marsh says
the deficit is still upwards of $360,- 000.

President Wilson's Railway Legislation.

(New York Evening Post.)
It seems that President Wilson is
to have a "fight" to get his railway legislation through Congress. The Protherbos are to make the stout-
est opposition to any statute denying them the right to start a nationwide strike without notice. Well, Mr. Wilson has shown before this
that he is a first-class fighting man
when his blood is up. It couldn't be got up in a better cause than that of carrying the American plan of Government regulation of railroads to
the point where the public need not
live in dread of a sudden and wanton stoppage of transportation. The President fought for the Brother-hoods last August. He may fight
just as hard against them, if they get in the way of completing the
program of railroad legislation
which he has already laid before Congress. Washington dispatches
are positive in asserting that Mr.
Wilson is to go ahead undeterred
by the protests of the railway unions.
If they want a fight, they will get it.

fluctuation is not because the cost of production has remained stationary.
Operating expenses and the prices of
raw materials have gone up and
down, mostly up, in the cigar business, the same as in any other business. But there are two things
which have tended to keep the retail prices of cigars uniform; first,
because of the fixed habit of paying
a stipulated price; and, second, because tobacco is classified as a luxury.

These two circumstances have
made both manufacturers and store
keepers loath to disturb the
equanimity of the smoker.
Ten years ago the profit in cigar
manufacturing had been reduced to such an extent that only the most sa-
gacious operators found the business
profitable. These conditions continued progressively, and when the war began, two and one-half years
ago, the situation became even more acute.

It is true that the war has not materially increased the exportation of leaf tobacco to Europe, but it has advanced the cost of virtually every element entering into manufacturing.

Increased activity in other industries has made labor in the tobacco
growing districts scarce. The wooden cases in which domestic tobacco is packed, the cheesecloth under which Shadegrown tobacco is grown, fertilizers necessary to the soil, implements used in cultivation, etc., all have advanced. And in Cuba the great boom in sugar has diverted
agriculturalists to that industry.

The result is that all kinds of leaf
tobacco used for cigar purposes have gone skyward.

Cigar manufacturers, therefore,
are paying more for leaf tobacco
than ever before, and, in addition to this, the price of boxes, labels, workmanship and all other details of operating have increased.

The upshot of it is that manufacturers almost without exception
are playing a losing game.

The consequence is that without
any concerted movement, manufacturers are either advancing prices
outright or are reducing the size of the brands and shapes.

Of course, there was another alternative, namely: to change the composition of the cigar and by using cheaper tobacco to reduce the cost of production. The better class of manufacturers, however, has refused to consider such a recourse.

It is recognized by manufacturers
that the retailer cannot be expected to stand the increase. Owing to competition the thousands of retailers for a long time have been finding
it very difficult to make ends meet.

Operating as they are on a narrow margin of profit, they could scarcely survive if the advance in cost were
to be taken out of their earnings.

The increase, therefore, whether
in the form of an outright raise in
price or by making smaller cigars,
must be paid by the smoker. He will have to begin paying more for his favorite brand of cigars now, or if
not now, in the near future.

Outlook for $30 Shoes.

(Boston Transcript.)
The shoe manufacturer who, at the banquet of the Boot and Shoe
Club last night, predicted the price
of $30 for an all-leather shoe "in a few years," is probably not altogether
an idle alarmist. More people to be shod, fewer cattle and horses to
supply them with leather for shoes;
increasing gold supplies and less
diminishing purchasing power in the dollar; what else can we expect than
to have to pay more for shoes? The shoemaker no longer pegs his shoes,
but he continues to peg up the price.
Leather is already a luxury. But in the remarks of Mr. Donovan, who uttered his $30 warning, we may find some small encouragement. This is to be the price of shoes "made entirely of high grade leather." There may be nothing like leather, but
there are other things in the world.
We may yet be wearing beautiful
shoes made of wood pulp or of old rubber mixed with cotton waste. The ingenuity of man is not yet exhausted.

Safe Conduct Refused.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
Great Britain's refusal of safe conduct to the United States of the new Austro-Hungarian Ambassador in Washington timely shows its belief
that Dr. Dumba's pernicious activities were not due so much to overzealousness on his part as they were to the direct orders of his government. Austria-Hungary is being punished for permitting or encouraging misconduct by her diplomatic envoys, for not playing the same fair. Such being the case, the wonder is Dr. Dumba got back to Vienna, which may be explained by the fact that at that time there was no Paris Pact in which the Allies
pledged themselves to leave nothing
undone to check the expansion of the Central Powers' trade during

the period of the war, reconstruction
for an indefinite period afterwards.
Great Britain's contention is that Germany did not play fair for years
before the war but instead, under
the guise of commercial enterprises
in foreign lands, laid the foundation
of a tremendously efficient nation
whose sole object was to crush England. Now since the adoption of the Paris agreement, every national
of the Central Powers in a foreign land, enemy or neutral, is to be made
to feel that he shares the guilt of his Fatherland and must help pay
the penalty. For years to come,
Germans and their allies must be the
hewers of wood and drawers of water for the English and French—so
the latter believe. So if Count Tar-nowski sets out it is at his own risk.

The United States has no case
against Great Britain in the Tarnowski incident. He must be left to get here as best he may or wait until the war is ended. The matter is of little consequence except as showing
the true attitude of the Allies toward Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Thanksgiving Thoughts.

(By M. R. Scott.)
In view of the coming Thanksgiving day, we may well be thankful
that we are free from the horrors
and desolation of the war which is raging in Europe, and for all the material and spiritual blessings
that we enjoy. The Lord of Heaven
and Earth does not need any expression of our gratitude for his
many gifts, but he has so made us
that the cherishing of a grateful
spirit and the due expression there-
of are the very bread and water of life to our own souls, and are an essential condition of our mortal
and spiritual growth.

For this reason, let us be careful
that our thanksgiving shall be a spiritual thanksgiving, and not a
thanksgiving that is of the earth,
earthly. If we cannot rejoice in that we have so ordered our lives that
the gifts of Heaven and of Mother Nature have all brought forth the fruits of the spirit in our lives, let us duly humble ourselves and pray
that all future blessings may produce that result.

Whether we be rich or poor, while
we ask ourselves what we shall render unto the Lord for all his benefits and blessings, let us not be un-
mindful of our many obligations to
our fellowmen for all their services
in our behalf. If we are rich and increased in early goods, let us ever
keep in mind that our property and incomes are in large measure the product of other people's labor. I do not say that people should hasten
to relinquish their wealth, but that they should be duly humbled with a sense of responsibility on account of
it, instead of being puffed up with pride and arrogance, and that they should pray for wisdom to ful-
fill the stewardship that is conferred upon them. If all rich and
prosperous people were of this mind,
and were freed from their illusion
that they "make all their money,"
what an advance we would soon see
in Christian civilization. Why should not the possessors of wealth
in either large or small measure
recognize their obligations to society as clearly and as fully as
should the holders of public offices
from President of the United States
down to the Trustees and Clerk of Newark Township?

I have never believed that an
equal division of wealth is either
possible or desirable; but I do hold
that the people who belong to the house of "Have" should never forget their obligations to the "Have-
nots," on whose labor their wealth
is based. Commercial life is as truly a conflict as is military life,
and it must ever be the case that if
some win victories, others must suffer defeats. And such is the case
in Newark as well as in all the rest of the world. It would be impossible for all the people of Newark to make themselves rich—
even if all the particular causes of poverty were abolished—as it would be for both the European forces to win a victory in every battle that is fought.

"The poor ye have always with
you" is a Scripture that I fear will continue to be fulfilled as long as
human nature remains what it is.
It would be an impossible task
for me to say how the stewardship
of which I have spoken should be
or can be fulfilled; but if it be duly recognized, the problem is not
beyond human reason and intelligence.

No one can dispute the oft-repeated truism that we should always
help people to help themselves; but I have thought that its application
is often carried to the extent of neglecting to help those who are seeking to help themselves to the full extent of their ability.

There is another oft-repeated
truism to the effect that we should
be careful not to give material help
too freely or too liberally, lest we encourage the spirit of dependence
in those we help and impair their self-respect. This is certainly a fundamental principle, but some-
how I never like to hear it stated,
unless it is accompanied with the
counter principle that the danger
of harming the objects of charity
can be greatly minimized, and in most cases avoided altogether, by manifesting intelligent sympathy for them and a proper interest in their welfare.

Therefore, I would fain see it inscribed over the doorway of every
church in our city and proclaimed
from every pulpit, that the giving
of material help should be with sympathy and human interest to the poor and unfortunate and erring—
without stopping to ask whether
they are "worthy" or not—should not be accounted a burden but a
means of grace, a means of saving
our own souls alive and fitting ourselves for the Kingdom of Heaven,
both here and hereafter.

While I maintain that all classes
of the needy and unfortunate should receive attention and care, I confess
to a special interest in the widow
mothers, who are compelled to work
out or bend over the wash tub too
many days in the week to feed and
clothe the children they have borne.
I fully recognize soap and water as
important agencies of civilization;
but I cannot think it either physical or spiritual health for either
mothers or children to breathe the fumes of soapsuds day after day
and week after week.

I take it that nobody likes to see
an overstocked family in the abodes
of the poor, but he is remembered,
that if there were no such families,
the problem of race suicide would become a very serious one. Therefore, instead of counting the children
of the poor a burden on society and
on our sympathy, I hold that we ought to count them an asset and do
everything in our power to assist
their mothers in the task of training
them for citizenship. Here let me
raise the question whether much
more could not be done than has ever been done to get the children
of the poor into our Sunday schools
and to keep them there. Why should not churches have a fund for this purpose and other charitable purposes?

And O men and women, how
many mothers need both material
and moral help that they may raise
their children as children ought to be raised to make them good citizens. I certainly would not denieve
any mother of the privilege of working for her children, but I maintain

that as long as any true mother has
to surrender her children in order
to secure their support, our boasted Christian civilization is far short of what it ought to be. Nay, more; as long as many mothers have to toil
and strain and struggle as hard as
they do to clothe and feed and educate their children, our civilization
is not yet perfect, to say the least.

Did any person owning an automobile or a horse and carriage offer one of these mothers a ride in-
to the country or any similar service
during the past summer season?
I wonder how many men and women in Newark will be able at the close of their lives, if not on the coming Thanksgiving day, to say
with Job of old:

"When the ear heard me, then it
blessed me, and when the eye saw
me, it gave witness to me."
"Because I delivered the poor that
cried and the fatherless and him
that had none to help him."
"The blessing of him that was
ready to perish came upon me, and I caused the widow's heart to sing
for joy."

"I put on righteousness and it
clothed me; my judgment was as a
robe and a diadem."
"I was eyes to the blind, and feet
was I to the lame."
"I was a father to the poor, and
the cause that I knew not I searched
out."

ENGLAND ASKS PEOPLE TO HELP SAVE MILLIONS.

London, Nov. 29.—A million pounds or $5,000,000 could be saved in a fortnight if everyone would agree to go without meat on one day each week, says the newest appeal to the public to cut down their meat consumption made by the National War Savings Committee. Last September a Board of Trade committee, making a similar appeal for economy, urged the public to agree to one meatless day each week, but apparently it has fallen on deaf ears.

Of present high prices the civilian population of this country now eats about 500,000 pounds worth of meat every day, according to figures compiled by the war savings committee which finds that this is due to the habit of eating meat—beef, mutton, pork or bacon—two or three times a day.

"Excessive meat eating is a bad habit," adds the committee. "Nothing so radical as going without meat of any kind for a whole day is needed. People who eat meat twice a day should cut down the meat eaten, taking more fish, dried beans, peas, etc., and cheese, and those who eat fish and several kinds of meat at lunch and dinner should have only fish or one variety of meat."

Those not engaged in physical toil are especially urged to cut down their consumption of meat.

Besides the beneficial effects to the health, the appeal reasons that the demands upon shipping would be lessened, the supplies could be more evenly distributed, and a further increase in prices could be avoided.

WHEN BALLOTS ARE STOLEN, EVIDENCE DETERMINES VOTE.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 29.—The supreme court of appeals held yesterday that when ballots of an election are stolen that the board of canvassers must take evidence so as to ascertain the correct vote.

With Judge Lynch dissenting the court awarded a peremptory writ of mandamus requiring the canvassers of Wyoming county to learn from witnesses summoned, what vote was cast for candidates for sheriff in the last election in a precinct where the ballots were stolen. The writ was awarded on a petition of Herbert W. Sanders, Democratic nominee.

You will find much to admire in the "daintiness" of the Walk-Over styles, the "rich finish" of the fine Walk-Over leathers, and the snug, "comfortable feeling" enjoyed only in Walk-Over shoes.

These are only a few reasons why Walk-Over shoes have gained such an enviable place in the opinion of well dressed women everywhere.

Fit and Price is our overgaiter message to you today.

Fit comes first in importance. Walk-Over overgaiters fit smoothly for two reasons—

2d—They are made of piano cloth, the goods that is the most smooth-fitting of all overgaiter cloths.

Considering the quality and the correct colors, the price is especially low.

Granville

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Nov. 29.—Tuesday was a day to discourage pedestrianism in Granville as there was heavy and continuous rain all day. But despite that dampener to enthusiasm, there was a good attendance at the afternoon session of the A. F. F. W., and the time was employed in clearing up odds and ends of work and in finishing up the material on hand. This represented a sum total of achievement and another large box is ready to be packed. Every one in town, men and women alike, should see one of these boxes as it is packed by Mrs. John Geach and her committee. At the business session several letters from the Paris depot were read by the secretary, and it is impossible for one's zeal to abate if kept in touch with the great work of relief by such letters as these. The members present were greatly touched by the confession of an American in charge of one of the field hospitals, that as he was unpacking a box of American supplies he gave a loving pat to the gay suit of pajamas whose pocket held a neatly folded handkerchief. Bless the practical American woman who first thought of it! She must be the mother of boys! Everything is needed, and the New York central committee spoke of an anonymous gift of $10,000, along with other supplies received. While the motive which actuates the workers is first and foremost the desire to relieve human suffering, incidentally they feel that they owe it to their country and to their own community not to be found wanting in this time of stress, and every means will be used to keep up the interest in the great work. Several of the women present volunteered to come next Tuesday to the morning session and a committee volunteered to serve hot coffee to all who bring their lunch. Mrs. Ray, chairman of the Surgical supplies committee, spoke of attending a tea in Columbus last Friday "where most of the guests had come from their all-day A. F. F. W. meeting. The hostess herself had made and filled one hundred comfort bags, one of which was exhibited as a sample. At that time the Columbus branch had sent one thousand of these bags, lacking 12." Next Tuesday is to be handkerchief day, with the customary side lines for other work. There will be no meeting of this committee during the week devoted to The King's Daughters bazaar. After Christmas, however, the monotony of work is to be relieved by various pleasing expedients. Miss Clara Sheldon of the public schools visited the rooms and gave the secretary $9.50 collected from the senior, sophomore, freshman classes and several of the grades, most of it from the lower classes. It was tacitly decided that since this is a worthy cause, the women engaged in it are to wear a tiny knot of American colors on Tuesday of each week.

Chi Psi Delta sorority has planned to have a number of its members attend the A. F. F. W. meetings on Tuesday and lend their aid in any way possible, in preparing the supplies for shipment. Yesterday there were present for work Misses Pauline Ireland, Ethel Collett, Ruth Sedgwick and Frances Ray.

President and Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain will have as Thanksgiving house guests their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wells A. Chamberlain of Grafton. The executive mansion will be opened for a family gathering and dinner on Thursday.

Prof. Orley See of Indiana, Pa., a former Denison student, who later taught in the conservatory, arrived in Granville last night and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Geach at their home in North Granger street. Mr. See is to give a violin recital in Shelby, his home town, on December first, and will have as accompanist Prof. Karl Eschman, director of Denison Conservatory. Mrs. See is at the bedside of her sister, who is ill.

Miss Ethel Conard entertained a party of sixteen of her girl friends Monday evening, November 27 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Conard on the Welsh Hills road, in observance of her birthday. A congenial party of Phi Gamma will enjoy the Thanksgiving recess at the homes of Gordon Lang and Paul Cheney in Ashtabula. Those in the party are, besides the hosts: Messrs Herbert Shorney, Sidney Collier, Donald Butler, and Henry Arnold.

Mrs. Frank Ray who coached a class of Columbus women in Red Cross work last spring, so that every one was able to pass her examination with a good grade, is invited to continue her lectures this winter. On the first Friday of the month she will give health lectures to a class of thirty women in Oxley hall, O. S. U.

The King's Daughters devote all day Friday to work in their rooms for the Christmas bazaar which will be held on December 12, both noon and evening. Meals will be served on that day, to all comers.

College closes today for the Thanksgiving recess. Many of the students expect to go home, while a large proportion will remain in Granville.

Mr. Spencer Weber of Curtis hall leaves this evening for Toledo where he will spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

Dancing as a Beautifier.

The popularity of the dansants seems in no way to have lost favor after two years. The modern dances are really beauty aids because they are funmaking dances. Exercise of any sort is almost lacking in benefits if one does not throw oneself into it with heart interest. The mind must be pleased and contented or the muscles will move half heartedly as well. Because music and social life are a part of dancing it is more joyously exhilarating than any other form of exercise.

Like tennis and swimming, dancing is beneficial because it uses all the muscles. The folk dances, as they are taught in the public schools of the cities give the poise of perfect muscular control.

The Grecian classical dances confer an even more perfect grace. If you find that modern dances are too energetic and tire heart and lungs, join one of the classes which teach the slow, classical movements of the graceful ballet steps. Pleasure will be combined with your exercise and the relaxation which will follow is soothing to the nerves. The average woman carried tense nerves into her period of rest and sleep which an hour's dancing would easily dispel.

We learned many new beauty lessons when the Russian ballet first visited this country. Their movements were free and inspired joyful thoughts. Dancing is an expression, in rhythmic motion, of a mental state. It is not a mere pattern of actions which an instructor tells us

Any system of personal cleanliness is incomplete that does not include a Sanitary Hair Dressing — this can only mean

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Applications at the better barber shops Guaranteed by The Herpicide Co. Sold Everywhere to copy. You must feel that you want to express yourself by grace of movement before you can yourself become a creature of grace.

To gain real benefit from dancing do not eat too heartily before the evening's fun begins. Dance in the open air whenever possible and avoid close, stuffy halls. There is a time for all good things to stop, especially dancing. The excitement of the music and the chatter of friends will tend to drive you on, but if you are dancing for benefit and beauty you must rest when muscular weariness overtakes you.

Our Boys and Girls

One of the handiest things in a home is a baby box (if there is a baby.) This is made from a large cracker box with a lid made of thin boards put on with hinges. The box should be lined with white oilcloth or something easy to keep clean.

The outside may have a pretty valance round it or it can have pretty wall paper pasted around it. Have a box long enough to lay the short dress flat. Long one are folded square fit in an end. You can make pockets different sizes for the other end. These hold everything for baby's bath. A dainty white cushion holds the baby pins.

You can bring your bath tub near and give baby its bath without looking for a thing. Everything is handy and in its place. These boxes can be made as elaborate as you please, but the plainer they are the more easily they are kept clean and neat.

Everyday Etiquette

"If an accident happens at the table such as overturning a glass or breaking a bit of china, what should I say?" asked May.

"Apologize at some other time rather than at the table. To say you are sorry is enough to say for the moment," directed her sister.

Bowser and Schober Will Settle Title Claim Tonight At Auditorium; Classy Card

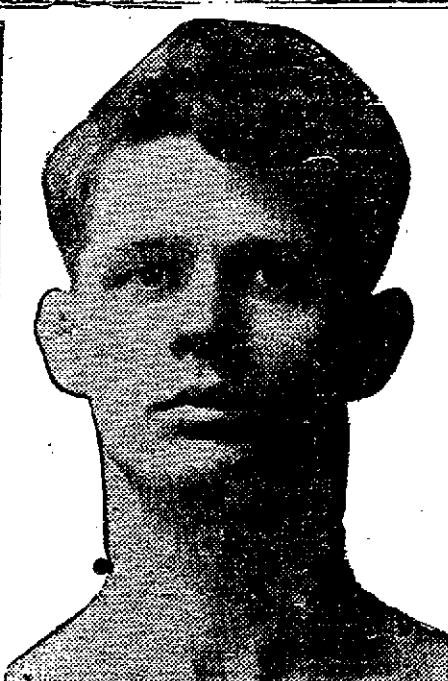

Tonight at the Auditorium, Newark wrestling fans are promised the treat of the season, when Paul Bowser, world's middleweight wrestling champion, and Billy Schober, of Indianapolis, clash in a wrestling argument to a finish, best two in three falls to win. Schober is in the city anxiously awaiting the call of time, when he hopes to show the wrestling public that he, and not Bowser, is the legitimate claimant to the middleweight honors. True the men will meet at catch weights, but both will be about the same weight, the controversy can be satisfactorily settled.

Schober has been working hard for his bout, because he is sure that he is in the fight of his career tonight, on account of the rapid manner in which Bowser disposed of George Gable at Lancaster several weeks ago, the man who remained with Schober to a three hour draw. The local man stowed Gable away in 23 minutes so completely that the Cincinnati wrestler will not engage in another bout for some time. But Schober points out that because Paul succeeded in beating Gable in less than 20 minutes, is no reason that the champion can defeat him. The Indianapolis grappler is more than confident that he will be declared the winner by reason of the decision he holds over Pat Brown, of Texas, considered the greatest middleweight in the world, in Texas. Out of Texas, little is known of Brown, because it is impossible to get him into a match.

In his home town, Brown has never tasted defeat until several months ago when after a hard fight in which slugging played an important part, Schober gained the first decision. Since then Schober has laid claim to the middleweight championship because of none of the other middleweight being able to stay with Brown the limit of a match, let alone defeat him.

Bowser, however, will be out to give the fans the same old article of wrestling that has stamped him as a champion ever since he first came to Newark. He has been working earnestly with his training partner, Charles Metro, the past week and is in excellent condition. It is to be regretted that the bout could not be held on Thursday but as the Auditorium was already booked for this date, the match had to be moved ahead.

Tonight's bout will be the last in the Auditorium for three weeks, as the house is booked up for that length of time. No better man could be brought here for the show than Schober, as the fans are anxious to see him in action.

PAUL BOWSER

and to get a real good line on Bowser's wrestling ability.

The advance sale of tickets indicate a large crowd. Two high class preliminaries have been arranged for the card and the first will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

The Northwestern with Bingham for captain seem to have the edge on the other teams so far. BASEBALLS HIGHER.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Baseballs will cost from ten to fifty per cent more next season than last, depending upon the market price of the materials, local sporting goods dealers announced today. It was also announced that the price of golf clubs will be advanced from thirty to fifty per cent. The general manager of a large sporting goods house candidly figures to show that certain materials entering into the manufacture of baseballs and golf clubs have increased in price from eight to four hundred per cent. Within the year, it was said that the regulation baseball used by the big leagues, which has been sold for $1.25, probably will bring $1.50.

Football Double Header Thanksgiving at Wehrle Will Feature College Men

Newark in the past has enjoyed a number of high class holiday attractions, but none that could compare with the one tomorrow afternoon, (Thanksgiving), at Wehrle park, when the McDaniels, The Marion Questions, Frank The Hatters and Fitzsimmons teams stage a double header football program. All four teams are of the class that football fans clamor to see in action and the largest holiday crowd that ever attended an event of this character is expected to pass through the turnstile at Wehrle park. The stage is set for the football treat of age, assuring the old town of a real honest to goodness gridiron celebration.

The first game will bring the Fitzsimmons and Frank The Hatters teams together in a championship game, that will mean a great deal to the managers of both teams. The two teams have long been rivals for gridiron honors and tomorrow's contest is the outcome of the controversy.

The game will be called promptly at 1 o'clock so as to be finished in time for the big Thanksgiving game between the McDaniels crack aggregation and the Marion Questions, unquestionably the greatest bunch of footballers playing professional football in the state. The manager of the Marion team writes that a large crowd of Question supporters will accompany the team and furnish plenty of rooting.

The visitors will be in the game to win as decisively as possible, as they are anxious to go through the season with a clean record and to pile up as big a total of points on their opponents as they did last year. Among the members of the visiting teams will be several college stars of two years ago, who are expected to uncork a brand of football that will dazzle the locals.

But since the visitors are many of all their press notices it would prove profitable for the local fans to hear in mind that the McDaniels too will be loaded with college players who are well known in Ohio's gridiron sport.

Two stars are now being dickered

with by Manager McDaniels, who if their services can be secured, will give the locals one of the strongest pro teams in the state. The Players are "Goat" Watkins, an old Denison university player who when in college made the All Ohio team, and Captain McCreary, of this years Ohio University, at Athens who also made the All-Ohio team.

The probable players who will be seen in the McDaniel line-up tomorrow besides the college players now being sought, are Jackson, Smeltz, Smith, Williams, Bowser, Jenkins, Carter, Hughes, Thull, Sullivan, Bliss, E. Brown and Preiner.

Manager McDaniels is arranging for quick street car services both before and after the game, thus assuring the fans of getting home early to resume their turkey eating activities.

DOWNY MEETS MURPHY; GULART IN SEMI-FINAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, Nov. 29.—Under the auspices of the Toledo athletic club, Bryan Downey, of Columbus, O., and Frankie Murphy, of Denver, lightweights, will box 12 rounds here tonight. Murphy, who has been going 20-rounds in the Rocky Mountain district, is expected to work exceptionally strong in the short bout. Downey, the Columbus boy has gained an enviable reputation, although his career has not been an extensive one. Gabe Gulart, and Battling Braidt, heavyweights, will fight 8-rounds in the semi-final event and Young Brown and Battli Lundy, 145 pounders, will square off in the preliminary six round affair. Matt Hinkle of Cleveland, will referee the bouts.

The Gas Fund.
Editor of the Newark Advocate:
Having noted the numerous suggestions that have been made through the press as to the most beneficial manner in which the gas escrow fund could be applied, in case the United States Supreme Court decides in favor of the consumers, we are authorized to advise that organized laborers have decided that the most beneficial manner to dispose of the said fund is for them to exercise their individual rights in the matter, which they have decided to do.

Organized labor through the Trades and Labor Assembly has been diligent in its efforts to assist in protecting the consumers' risks in the controversy with the gas company relating to the escrow fund. Laborers being the largest consumers of gas therefore the largest beneficiaries of the said fund, and having decided to apply the fund in a manner that they deem to their best interests offer the suggestion that any disposition offered other than the one herein suggested will be superfluous.

AUDITORIUM.

"Peg O' My Heart." The most absorbing play of the present day theatricals is J. Hartley Manners' delightful comedy "Peg O' My Heart," which patrons of the Auditorium are anxiously awaiting to attend its presentation here, which takes place tomorrow afternoon and evening. No theatrical offering in the past twenty years has left such a lasting impression upon our play-going public, as has Oliver Morosco's fortune-making success. This delicate little comedy with its mixture of fun and pathos, presents life in its true light, with a deeper motive than can be attributed to any of the other plays Mr. Manners' has given to the stage. Every stage generation or so, there comes into the life of our theatre a play so real, so human, so true to all characteristic drawings and narratives, that its brilliancy dazzles us by its drawing power. "Peg O' My Heart" is such a play; its engagement here should duplicate the wonderful attendance in other cities.

The seats sale for both matinee and evening performances have been exceptionally large, but there still remains many choice seats. Manager Fenberg has placed the prices within reach of all, the evening price of One-fifty only taking in the first eight rows, leaving many seats at seventy-five and fifty cents on the lower floor. The matinee prices also which run fifty, seventy-five and one dollar for lower floor.

Those who expect to see one or the other of the performances should not delay, but order seats at once as capacity business is bound to rule at both performances.

"Sins of Her Parent."

In her first starring vehicle for William Fox, Gladys Brockwell plays a double role. The photoplay is "Sins of Her Parent," and Miss Brockwell plays the sinning mother as well as the daughter who bears the punishment for her mother's wrongs.

This feature together with "Twas School Days," will be the Auditorium attraction, Friday and Saturday of this week. "Twas School Days," showing many interesting events of Newark is drawing crowds to the Auditorium and if you haven't seen it, we would suggest you taking in one of the showings Friday or Saturday.

"High Life Girls."

The Management of the "High Life Girls" which attraction Manager Fenberg is announcing with more than usual zest for his next week's wheel show at the Auditorium theatre Monday, has struck on a most novel scheme to keep the chorus keyed up to high concert pitch all the time. They have labored hard and long to gather together a chorus that is far in advance of any or all of their competitors and are more than pleased with the result of their efforts in that direction. The scheme consists of giving a prize, a monetary one on each salary day to the girl who has performed her week's work the best. Also one to the girl who keeps her wardrobe in the best condition. One also goes to the girl who shows the best general average in neatness and appearance, etc., and as Stage Manager Kennedy says "Believe me, maybe you think they are not all after the honor, to say nothing about the pin money that goes with it." Seats ready Friday.

Week of Stock.

Manager Fenberg wishing to give both the lovers of high class and popular drama, has arranged a treat for lovers of "Rep" in the engagement of Mae La Porte, a comedienne of merit, who will open an engagement of five days commencing next Tuesday, at which time she will offer latest New York successes with special scenery, effects, etc., at prices ranging from ten to fifty cents. Tuesday night will be ladies night, that is ladies will be admitted for fifteen cents, if tickets are secured before 6 p. m. Tuesday evening. Seats ready Saturday morning.

"Less Than Dust."

Both Mary Pickford at the head of her own company in "Less Than Dust" and Clara Kimball Young in "The Foolish Virgin" are early bookings at the Auditorium theatre. Manager Fenberg promises some great

Both Mary Pickford at the head of her own company in "Less Than Dust" and Clara Kimball Young in "The Foolish Virgin" are early bookings at the Auditorium theatre. Manager Fenberg promises some great features for his picture patrons in the near future.

Theda as Juliet.

Theda Bara the Fox star, is to be seen in "Romeo and Juliet" at the Auditorium soon. This should excite some curiosity as Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne were seen at the Auditorium only a short time ago in the same play and many will want to compare the two stars.

Praise Wheel Show.

The Wheel show for next Tuesday will be the High Life Girls, who opened Monday at the Lyceum Theatre in Columbus and the papers gave them a very nice notice, speaking of the company in general, saying it was one of the best that had visited Columbus this season. The company is a large one, with a cast of principals of unequalled merit, headed by Beatrice Harlowe, the cleverest woman in musical comedy. The fascinating Michellene Pennetta, also Warren Lincoln Travis, world's wonderful athlete will be seen. Last Monday nearly nine hundred ladies saw both performances. These shows are becoming more popular each week and all should see them. The latest in gowns and costumes are seen and no lady can feel, that she will be insulted, as Manager Fenberg personally looks over each show at Columbus and nothing that is vulgar nor risqué is seen here.

GRAND.

Thanksgiving.

George Larkin performs two unusually daring feats in "The Rogue's Pawn," an episode of the "Grant, Police Reporter," series. During the screen telling of the story he swings from a broken telephone wire into the window of a burning building and later jumps from the fourth floor of the building into a life net. Excitement is kept at a high pitch by fast action during the course of a fire in a gambling house, which the reporter has entered after climbing up the back of the building in order to rescue the daughter of the police commissioner, who has been lured to the house by a ruse.

"The Border Line," a powerful three-act drama featuring Nell Craig and Edward Arnold, will also be shown.

ALHAMBRA.

A most unique effect is obtained in "The Masked Ball," the third episode of "The Scarlet Runner," featuring Earle Williams and which is shown at the Alhambra theatre Wednesday. The jewels of the guests at a large ball have been stolen during the evening are returned inside of a large pie. This is most unexpected and sure to create comment.

During a struggle in which Olga pretends to appreciate his embrace, she stabs Savaroff to death with a knife, and because of his orders to the guard that she be permitted to leave unmolested, she escapes.

This is "The Scarlet Oath," fulfilled but the story is far from completed. Russia must still be left behind. See how an American Consul is unconsciously made the dupes of this clever Nilist.

This is one of the very best plays in which Gail Kane has ever appeared and it will be shown at the Alhambra theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

LYRIC.

Tomorrow.

The Red Feather Film Co., presents a great five-act drama "A Romance of Billy Goat Hill," by Alice Hegon Rice, author of Ans. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch. This is one of the best Red Feather productions yet produced and has one of the greatest railroad wrecks, where an entire passenger train plunges off of an enormous enormous trestle. This scene alone cost thousands of dollars and is just one of the many thrills in this great picture. It has a splendid cast headed by Myrtle Gonzales and Fred Church, supported by George Hernandez and Val Paul. This picture will be shown at the Lyric tomorrow. Admission 5c.

FIRE DRIVES 22 NURSES OUT OF CO. INFIRMARY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, Nov. 29.—Fire in the nurses' home at the Lucas county infirmary routed the matron and 22 girls at 3 o'clock this morning.

When smoke from the blazing basement of the three story brick building began pouring through the corridors and rooms the matron aroused the nurses.

Clad in night gowns and bits of bedclothing, the nurses fled in panic.

The blaze originated from an overheated furnace. Damage to the building was $100.

Auto Hits Wagon Loaded With Nitro; It Didn't Explode

Martinsburg, O., Nov. 29.—Friends of James Hancock of this place are advising him to go on the vaudeville stage and exhibit himself as the only man who ever put a nitro-glycerine wagon out of commission and lived to tell the tale.

Mr. Hancock was returning from Utica in his automobile and when a few miles out of the village collided with a horse-drawn vehicle in which a large quantity of the high explosive was being transported to the Brink Haven oil field.

While the Hancock machine sustained very little damage, the glycerine wagon was so badly damaged that it was necessary to send to Utica for another conveyance. That the whole outfit, men, horses, wagon and automobile, was not blown out of existence is regarded as a miracle.

LONDON ARISTOCRATS DRIVEN TO CHEAP LUNCH BY REGULATIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Nov. 29.—Expensive restaurants and hotel dining rooms catering to wealthy patronage will have to close up under the regulations to be imposed by the newly created food control commission of Great Britain, according to Sir Alfred A. Both, chairman of the board of directors of the Cunard line, who arrived here yesterday from Liverpool.

Sir Alfred said there was a waste of food through the ordering by the wealthy of elaborate meals that were not eaten.

He said all grain brought into the kingdom would be purchased by the government and be passed on to the millers and bakers in such quantities and so distributed that all the people will benefit equally; at the same time regulations would be imposed as to prices charged.

SAN ANTONIO WOMEN BAKE PIES AND CAKES FOR SOLDIERS ON BORDER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Antonio, Nov. 28.—Nearly 5000 pies and 2500 big cakes were baked by the housewives of San Antonio yesterday for the 15,000 soldiers at Fort Sam Houston and Camp Wilson. The Rotary club is sponsoring the plan to give the soldiers Thanksgiving dinner a home touch. A similar plan is being followed in Corpus Christi by the Rotary club there which is securing enough home cooked pies and cakes to feed the 5000 Texas troops on duty there. The soldiers will have turkey supplied by the government.

WILL POSTPONE CASE.

Cleveland, Nov. 29.—At conference late yesterday between Federal Judge Kilgus, United States District Attorney Wertz and railroad attorneys it was agreed to postpone all of the railroad cases attacking the Adamson eight hour law in the federal court here pending the outcome of a similar case taken to the United States Supreme court at St. Louis last week.

POPULAR JOHNSTOWN BANKER

Mr. C. L. McCracken, cashier of the Citizens Bank of Johnstown, was born in Hopewell township, went to country school there, attended the high school at Hanover and Hartford, later graduating from Ohio Northern University at Ada, Ohio in 1889. Mr. McCracken, who has lived in Licking county all his life with the exception of a short period spent in Illinois, was a farmer for three years after leaving school and still retains an interest in farm work. He was postmaster at Croton during the Cleveland administration, was for years a popular school teacher and head of the Hartford schools. For 15 years Mr. McCracken was a member and treasurer of the Hartford school board, treasurer of Hartford township, and secretary-treasurer of the Hartford Agricultural society. Shortly after the Croton bank was organized in 1898 as a branch of the Johnstown bank, Mr. McCracken became assistant cashier, H. B. Rusler being president and William A. Ashbrook, cashier. In 1910 when the Croton bank was organized into a state bank he left Croton and went to the Johnstown bank. In 1915 Mr. Rusler retired because of ill health and Mr. Ashbrook became president and Mr. McCracken cashier. Mr. McCracken looks after all the details of the bank. He unlocks in the morning and looks up at night.

A recent statement of the Johnstown bank shows the resources to be $261,739.80. The bank has $7,535 undivided profits, individual deposits of $141,800.68, demand certificates of $112,113.35.

SIGNED WORDS OF PRAISE TELL THE STRIKING STORY

Nerv-Worth Not Like Other Tonics—Does More Than Relieve—Confers Lasting Benefits.
No nerve tonic on the market equals Nerv-Worth in the thorough-going and enduring benefits which it confers. Other nerve tonics do their users good perhaps while they continue to take them but when the doses cease back come the ills to renew their attacks. Among the great number of signed statements now on file in the company's office (gratefully given in at the various Nerv-Worth agencies throughout the country) there are hundreds which strongly emphasize the fact that testifiers were not merely RELIEVED by Nerv-Worth but that they received LASTING BENEFITS therefrom, indigestion, sleeplessness, sick and nervous headaches, dizziness, bowel trouble, lack of appetite and similar nervous ills having been permanently overcome by this supravital family tonic, which had also brought new flesh, new strength and new health, into their lives.

Druggist T. J. Evans sells Nerv-Worth and hands your dollar back if the tonic does not benefit YOU.—Advertisement. 11-27-29

GERMANY BUILDS FIVE SUBMARINES FOR NEUTRAL TRADE.

Five monster merchant submarines of the Deutschland type are being constructed in Germany for commercial intercourse with neutral nations, according to members of the crew of the Deutschland in conversation with friends in New London, Conn., where the big under sea boat docked on her last trip to America. This statement is contained in New London papers sent to Henry Gartner, 192 South Second street, by a nephew who operates a hotel in New London.

The crew of the Deutschland will be divided among the other vessels so the green crews may have the benefit of their experience. Captain Koenig of the merchant submarine,

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.
The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, youthfulness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.
Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

A MORAL FORCE
—A BANK can be conducted ONLY by honest men, and can only deal with honest CUSTOMERS.
—Its very EXISTENCE depends upon its square dealing.
—It is only a question of time till any CROOKEDNESS in banking is FOUND OUT, and from that on, the bank is dead.
—The INFLUENCE of a bank in the community, therefore, makes for public MORALITY, for general INTEGRITY and UPRIGHTNESS.
